April 2017 - August 2017: Vaal University of Technology

Vanderbijlpark

Senior lecturer of management accounting

Resigned because of gang stalking.

January 2013 - March 2017:

Pretoria

Innovation

- Although my research experienced opposition due to "different paradigms", the Sunday Times vindicated the field of research on 24 April 2016 by placing a half page article, which acknowledges the correlation between philosophy/religion and economic matters.

Activities

- Research about Accounting for ideas at North-West University. During October 2015 i received an MPhil (Philosophy) degree.
- Represented self in general and at the CCMA, Labour Court, Constitutional Court, Judicial service Commission (JSC) and Public Protector, against University of South Africa (UNISA), the CCMA, a Labour Court Judge, the JSC, and the Public Protector. Not one of these institutions could protect my rights as individual (usually referred to as right of "the individual" in philosophy and social studies) against "the group". "The group" convicted in criminal activities like intimidation and i did not break the law. False convictions controlling the "lords" and "ladies" of South Africa and the Courts, and a utilitarian Constitution, discriminating against "the individual" in favour of groups, nullified the law.
- I defended myself successfully against corrupt civilians' and prosecutors' false criminal assault charges and false psychiatric accusations in the Magistrates' Court. Defended myself against two men who trespassed and attacked me at my home. The false criminal assault charge was laid against me, after nothing happened for a year, on the same day i opened a Labour Court case.

Research record: Peer-reviewed.

- Mini-dissertation titled "A view of God to consider: Critique of Richard Kearney's atheism" for completion of an MPhil (Philosophy) degree.

- The Republic by Plato - iBooks and Amazon eBook stores. Benjamin Jowett's public domain translation was compared with Desmond Lee's translation and Stephanus numbers, anchors and annotations were added to Jowett's translation.
- Other publications at iBooks and Amazon, relating to Accounting for ideas:
 - Intequisms: Accounting of ideas
 - Demarcation and Caiaphas Syndrome
 - Alterities

Research record: Peer-reviewed.

January 2002 - March 2009: Entrepreneurial work

Various

Own Project Manager

During this time i had a severe intestinal problem, which doctors could not explain. The problem affected my social interaction substantially negative. Unexplained exclusion from the job market and placement in short term contract positions where unethical behavior was expected of me, with consequential endings of contracts, when i did not comply, took place. My theory is, the current economic system uses people with false psychiatric diagnoses against them, to commit fraud, because according to the system, such people cannot be found guilty. Due to the circumstances, i had to generate ideas and implement the ideas as far as possible self, to try and forge an income. I also worked as estate agent at Seeff and as insurance sales man at Old Mutual for a while.

Design, subcontracting manufacturing, in house manufacturing, registering the design and marketing of wooden sandals.

Forming the Africahead (©2002) transacting mark. I wrote a website (www.africahead.co.za).

Forming various ideas, which are used in the economy. Struggling to implement some of the ideas, led to research at University of South Africa about Accounting of ideas.

Various accounting contracts via contract agencies.

April 1999 - December 2001: Own Business

Cape Town

Started a partnership with a software developer to develop software. The software was supposed to make Internet banking possible with a general ledger, which draws general ledger entries directly from bank records.

Started a business, which had wholesale distribution rights for Hongdu's Chinese motorcycles in the Southern African Development Countries. It was supposed to develop into a South African brand called Moiom. At the time, all motorcycles were imported from the first world. Hongdu also manufactures a fighter jet, which looks like the Hawks South Africa purchased. My involvement with Hongdu, i am sure, because China was excluded from tendering during the purchase of fighter jets, around 2000, had a negative effect on my life, due to "intelligence". The experience however put me in contact with realities regarding "intelligence" and Accounting for ideas, i researched for good.

I ended the business because of too little capital and because the ZAR purchase price doubled, after the ZAR depreciated during 2001.

Work history abroad: 1996 - 1999

August 1998 - March 1999: Backpacker

July 1997 - July 1998: The Laird Group Plc.

I resigned to return to South Africa and settle down.

May 1996 - June 1997:

London

Contractor and backpacker

Various accounting contract positions.

Formed an advertising concept in the United Kingdom after seeing the idea in the United States of America. The idea comprised advertising in public toilets.

Work history in South-Africa: 1991 - 1996

November 1994 - April 1996: BOE Natwest Merchant Bank

Johannesburg

Manager – Corporate Finance

I resigned to work internationally, whilst i could get a working holiday visa to the UK.

January 1994 - October 1994: Receiver of Revenue

Tax evasion investigator
Assessor - Banks & Insurance companies

4 months in Bellville
6 months in Sandton

I resigned to work in corporate finance, my first work interest at the time.

January 1991 - December 1993: Coopers & Lybrand

Cape Town

Articled Clerk

I left because my training contract was complete and auditing is not my nature.

During 1992 i was falsely diagnosed manic depressive. This false diagnosis had a significant negative effect on my life because manic depressive diagnoses are "chronic". I have not used any medication since 2004, which is impossible according to the doctors' theory. Their own theory proves the diagnosis false or the theory is false. The medical industry, especially psychiatry, needs a revamp, partly because of unnecessary profits, chronic diagnoses cause.
